THOMPSON MEN LEAD IN ILLINOIS

Small Leading Oglesby for Governor in Republican Primary.

By the Associated Press
CHICAGO, Sept. 16.—With nearly half of the precincts in the state heard from candidates of the Thompson faction were leading the republican fight by a fairly substantial majority, on returns from yesterday's primary.

Frank L. Smith, Thompson candidate, for United States senator, and Len Small lead John Oglesby by 24,869 in the gubernatorial race.

Returns from 1,520 precincts in Cook county and 1,620 precincts outside of Cook county gave Small a total of 195,088 votes for governor over 170,399 for Oglesby. Additional early morning returns were all from city precincts. The down state precincts, which were expected to return heavy votes for Governor Lowden's candidate were slow in coming in.

FRENCH PRESIDENT RESIGNS HIS OFFICE

By the Associated Press
RAMBOULET, France, Sept. 16.—Paul Deschanel, president of France, presented his resignation from that office today. He gave his letter of resignation to Premier Millerand who will read the contents to the senate and chamber of deputies on Tuesday.

The version of the cause of the president's recent relapse given by the Temps is that it was due to a fall into the canal at Ramboulet Park at 6 o'clock last Friday morning. The president was rescued by fishermen, who happened to be near by, the newspaper says.

INJUNCTION AGAINST MINE WORKERS IS GRANTED

By the Associated Press
CHARLESTON, Sept. 16.—A temporary injunction restraining national and district officers of the United Mine Workers of America from attempting to induce non-union coal miners to join the union in violation of contracts with employing coal mining companies, was granted here today by three judges of the supreme court of appeals.

Baseball Hangs In Balance

The great American game of baseball, insofar as Ada is concerned, is hanging in the balances.

The game, in this locality as well as in many others, is threatened with destruction, and that without remedy, unless the managers and promoters of the sport in this city do something drastic to stop the bold reckless and flagrant gambling that goes on every time a game is played.

The Ada News doesn't care a rap whether men gamble or whether they do not—it's none of the News' business what people do with their money—but the fact remains that the great majority of the best people are opposed to gambling.

The News is, however, a great ball fan. It likes the game and helps boost it in every way possible. Naturally it regrets to see the game kill itself.

The liquor saloon cut off its own head by overstepping the boundary line of decency, if there could be any such thing as decency about a saloon.

The pool hall committed suicide by doing the same thing. It now looks as if one of the best, cleanest and most enjoyable sports known to the pleasure loving world was about to go the same route.

The great majority of the best men and women detest seeing men, both old and young, prance up and down the streets of Ada on a Sunday morning with both hands full of green backs challenging some one to "take his money."

The great majority of the best men and women believe that such practices are bad examples to set before the growing youths of the community. And, we might add, the will of the great majority of the best men and women of any community is law, and they are beginning to take a stand on this question.

Open, flagrant, disgusting betting and gambling on baseball games in this city is going to stop, or the game is going to stop, and that abruptly. That's all there is to it, and the managers and promoters of the sport had as well be prepared for the worst, for it's coming if they don't reform, and that at once.

Personally this paper is not interested, but as a mouthpiece for the majority of the best people of the community it never hesitates to take a stand—and a stand that no one will have any reason to misunderstand.

The News hears and sees with many eyes. It knows in advance what the people are going to do and what position they are going to take on the vital issues of the day where the public weal is involved.

With all kindness to the ball players, promoters, managers and fans alike, the News is giving you a tip. The people have your number, and you are going to stop the abhorrent practices above mentioned or you are going to quit playing ball. Do you get the cue?

SENATORIAL RACE IN COLORADO NOT YET DECIDED

By the Associated Press
DENVER, Sept. 16.—With both leading candidates for republican nomination for United States senator claiming a victory, it appeared probable today that an official count might be necessary to establish the result. Returns compiled by the Rocky Mountain News gave Carl Schuyler, Denver, a lead of 2,378 over Samuel Nicholson, of Leadville. Most of the missing precincts are in outlying districts considered favorable to Nicholson.

MANY ATTEND THE BIG FAIR TODAY

Not So Many Exhibits, But Those There Are Very Good Ones.

The crowd at the big free fair today was much better than yesterday, and by noon today all the exhibits were in place.

Possibly one of the best exhibits of the lot is the poultry exhibit which is being judged today.

Charles Smith of the A. and M. College is the judge of the poultry exhibit.

The school exhibits of the various country districts are most interesting and show a lot of painstaking work on the part of both students and teachers of the rural districts.

The agricultural and live stock judging will take place tomorrow and the ribbons will be awarded. Black, white faced and short horn cattle predominate, while there is quite a sprinkling of Jerseys and Holsteins.

The entertainment of the crowd this afternoon was provided by the high school band and special singing by Miss Emma Keller, and singing, drills and dancing in front of the grand stand by normal students, several hundred of them, under the direction of Anna Weaver Jones, head of the physical training department.

There was also broncho busting and goat roping in the big ring and race track in front of the grand stand.

The crowd will be entertained tomorrow afternoon by the high school band and athletic association.

One of the belated features is the big merry-go-round which is being erected this afternoon and which will be in operation tomorrow.

There will also be a big free moving picture show this evening.

Probably the best individual booth on the ground is that of the Ada Music company. The walls of the booth are constructed of graphophone crates of various kinds, while the roof is made of canvas.

Many talking machines of various makes and several pianos are on display. The floor is carpeted and chairs are furnished those who wish to rest and listen to the almost continuous music.

The automobile show, while not patronized by all the dealers in the city, is well arranged and there are some nice cars on exhibition.

The Emanuel-Overland company have four cars on exhibition, Willys-Knight, Overland and two Chevrolets.

The Motor Sales company is represented, having on exhibition the Velle and Maxwell, for which it is the local agent.

Fleet Cooper is represented with the Nash.

The Ada Motor company is on the ground with a good assortment of Dodge cars, both open and closed models.

Terrific Explosion at Noon Today Destroys the House of Morgan, Financial Center of the World.

THIRTY DEAD---MANY INJURED

Police Believe the Building Was Wrecked By Explosion of Bomb — Deed Is Work of Criminals, Believed.

By the Associated Press
NEW YORK, Sept. 16.—A terrific explosion, which rocked all of lower Manhattan, occurred at noon today outside the offices of the J. P. Morgan & Co., on Wall street. At 1:15 p. m. the police estimated the number of dead at 30 and the number of injured at 200.

It was impossible an hour after the explosion occurred to determine either its exact nature or location. Spectators were held back by the police. It was reported, however, that shortly before noon an automobile, drew up before the Morgan offices and when the Morgan detective approached the machine the man alighted and either accidentally or on purpose dropped what appeared to be a bomb. Occupants of a sky scraper looking down on Wall street told another version of the story. They declared that they had seen the car draw up and a man leave it. The spectators advanced the theory that the bomb had been timed.

Many of the injured were girls working in office buildings. Hundreds of persons were thrown to the sidewalk by the force of the explosion. Dozens of trucks and automobiles were pressed into service to carry away the wounded.

An hour after the explosion occurred, the police were inclined to the theory that it had been caused by the collision of a T. N. T. truck and an automobile on Wall street, between the Morgan offices and the sub-treasury building. They pointed to the fact that a T. N. T. truck was found at this point near a wrecked automobile. The officers switched their theories from dynamite to the T. N. T. because of the fact that there appeared no great hole in the sidewalk, such as dynamite would have caused.

Seventeen victims of the explosion were taken out of the side door of the Morgan banking house at 12:35.

United States regulars from Governors' island arrived on the scene for guard duty at 1:05. Doubt was cast on the accident theory when members of the army bomb squad, who hastened to the scene of the explosion, expressed the opinion that a bomb had been exploded. They added that fragments of metal found on the street were being examined on the theory that they might be bits of the infernal machine.

In addition to mutilated human bodies and dead horses being scattered about the street, great splashes of blood were smeared over the sidewalks and buildings.

Several persons were hurt in nearby office buildings when they were struck by objects hurled through the windows. The front of the Morgan building was demolished and the sub-treasury was also badly damaged. With the arrival of soldiers and police 50 street cleaners were put to work sweeping the streets to make possible easier passage of ambulances.

To check up the theory that the powder wagon was struck by an automobile, agents of the department of justice called at the Dupont Company for a detailed report on the location of their wagons at the time of the explosion. Officials of the company asserted that they were not carrying explosives to points in the vicinity where excavations are being made. Remains of a wrecked truck and its horses found near the scene of the explosion were examined by the police. Several construction men expressed their firm belief that the wreck was that of a powder wagon.

Junius Spencer Morgan, son of J. P. Morgan and a member of the firm, said that he was showered with broken glass, but was unhurt. When the explosion occurred he said, he was sitting in his office on the first floor of the building, while other members of the firm were at a meeting on the upper floor.

The United States sub treasury, immediately opposite the scene of the explosion, was placed under heavy police guard to protect the millions of dollars of gold, silver and paper money lodged in the great granite structure.

By the Associated Press
NEW YORK, Sept. 16.—While the police toiled for hours seeking the dead and injured, trained investigators were trying in vain to determine definitely whether the explosion had occurred from a bomb dropped in front of the office of J. P. Morgan & Co. or whether an automobile dashing down Wall street had struck a wagon loaded with explosives. One of the most able investigators of the department of justice declared after arriving on the scene that it was his opinion that it was not a bomb plot, but the result of a collision.

The explosion tore the fronts from office buildings for blocks around and scattered deadly missiles in all directions. So far as could be learned, two hours after the explosion, the disaster did not take the lives of any prominent financiers.

The roar of the explosion was heard far up Manhattan Island and hundreds of persons were hurled to the pavement. Cries arose and on Wall street, paved with broken glass, there dashed forth streams of blood more fit for a battlefield than America's financial center.

The damage to the Morgan building alone was estimated at $500,000. Minor damages to hundreds of other buildings it was said would at least total $500,000 more.

The cause of the explosion was dynamite in the street. Police Commissioner Enright said he had been informed by members of the Morgan firm. The Broad street hospital announced at 2 o'clock that it had treated nearly 200 people, mostly men, for injury due to the explosion.

William Joyce, an employee of the Morgan firm, who was killed, was a clerk in the securities department.

Windows of the 40-story Equitable building were shattered as high up as the 20th floor. Soldiers established a deadline around the wrecked buildings, lest pedestrians be injured by falling glass.

Only Fifteen Percent of State Wheat Marketed; Bad Jam Feared in 1921

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 16.—Oklahoma's 1920 wheat crop is only 15 percent marketed, according to C. F. Prouty, secretary of the Oklahoma Grain Dealers' association. Figures from normal years, as compiled by H. H. Schultz, show that 75 percent of the crop should be marketed by September 15.

If Prouty's figures are correct, and he is the best posted man in the state on the situation, less than 5,000 cars of new wheat have been sent out of the state. In addition to this 5,000,000 bushels of the 1919 crop have been marketed. Fifteen percent of the crop of 40,000,000 bushels is slightly less than 6,000,000 bushels. This leaves 34,000,000 bushels either unthreshed, stored in elevators, or stored on farms.

Small Field in Shock.
M. C. Burton, division freight agent of the Santa Fe, who has made several visits to the wheat growing areas served by the Santa Fe, says that he is impressed with the large number of small wheat fields that are still in the shock.

Where the farmer, either because of the excessive rain last summer or the unfavorable growing season, harvested only twenty or thirty acres of wheat, the threshers pulled past him to the larger fields. This short-sighted policy adapted to get the profits from threshing the large fields, has left thousands of acres of grain to ruin because of the incessant summer rains.

However, only a small percent of the total crop is in these small fields. But the situation in "big wheat" district in northwestern Oklahoma is more alarming. Nearly all the wheat west of Cherokee is headed wheat and not able to weather heavy or successive rains. There are stacks of wheat in this district that have never been dry enough to thresh since they were harvested in July, and many that were threshed were found to be greatly damaged by the dampness.

U. S. Estimates Too Small

But Prout says that the government estimate of 40,000,000 bushels for the state is too small, he has revised it to 43,000,000. If these figures are correct, and 5,000,000 bushels is deducted for the acreage that has been ruined by being left standing in shocks and stacks this leaves a marketable crop for the state of 38,000,000. If we take off the 6,000,000 bushels that have already been marketed this leaves 32,000,000 bushels stored in elevators and on the farms.

If the rate of marketing is not increased, Oklahoma will be caught with 20,000,000 bushels of old wheat on hand when the 1921 crop starts to move. When the jam that was occasioned by the 5,000,000 that was on hand at the beginning of the 1920 season, it recalled, it is easy to imagine the confusion that will result when the next crop starts to move with the elevators and granaries of the state glutted with 20,000,000 bushels of old wheat on hand.

The only salvation is to reduce the acreage in the state at least half. But this will be automatically attended to if the excessive rains continue. Reports from various parts of the state to the bureau of crop estimates show that only about one-fourth of the acreage of the year has been turned.

The shortage of freight cars is, of course, the principal reason that most of Oklahoma's wheat crop is still in the state, but another reason is the tie-up of ports on the Gulf coast. Galveston and New Orleans have both been tied up by strikes most of the summer, and New Orleans still is, according to C. W. Bleuler, of the Maney Export company.

Elevators Needed.
Shipments to these ports cannot be routed without a permit from the master of the port, Bleuler says. And the large shippers in the north generally get the permits. They are also helped by a preferential rate of 46 cents a hundred to Oklahoma's rate of 56 cents, though the distance is twice as far. The only remedy for this situation is the erection of huge elevators in the state, that would give the concentration of grain necessary for the lower rates, Bleuler says.

A survey of the situation shows that the farmers of Oklahoma are going to be forced to hold most of their wheat through the winter. This will throw a great strain on the small country banks, but the banks of Oklahoma are better able to stand the strain than those of any other agricultural state, according to Eugene P. Gum, secretary of Oklahoma's Bankers' association.

Wheat Farmers Independent.
The discounts on agricultural paper granted by the federal reserve system will enable the small banks to take care of all the farmer's needs, Gum says.

And the most independent farmers in the state are in the wheat district, Gum says. He thinks that they have storage for all the crop—notwithstanding their protests to the contrary during the car controversy—that they are fully able to go through the winter without marketing the bulk of the crop, and that they have horse sense enough not to plant a large wheat crop this fall before the 1920 crop is marketed.

FEELING HIGH IN BLAKELEY CASE

Farmer Who Killed Step-Daughter Now in Jail at Muskogee.

MUSKOGEE, Sept. 15.—Carrying out his threat of two weeks ago to kill her if she reported his criminal relations with her, Robert W. Blakeley, Bushy Mountain farmer, yesterday afternoon shot and killed his step-daughter, Effie Mae Alford, as she pleaded with him in his own home to spare her life.

Blakeley, who had been sought by the sheriff's office since the time the warrant charging him with rape was sworn out, slipped back to his mountain home a few days ago and had been living there with his wife and family while deputy sheriffs looked elsewhere for him.

Had Planned to Flee.
According to the story he told the sheriff when brought to Muskogee last night, he shot her when she wanted to leave the house and go to a neighbor to get some thread with which to sew.

Blakeley told the sheriff he returned to his home in the mountains Wednesday, persuaded his wife and step-daughter to say they'd go with him and was preparing to leave when he decided to end it all. Mrs. Blakeley had come to Muskogee early yesterday morning to attempt to sell the crops in the fields and the family then intended to leave the district and start life anew in Arkansas.

Just what happened in the little house a few minutes before the shooting will never be known.

Saw Her Talk to Man.

Blakeley told the sheriff he had watched the girl talking to an unknown man not far from the house near a spring and didn't know whether it was a lover or not. At any rate when she returned to the house an argument started which ended in the shooting.

Officers have different theories about the direct cause of the shooting, but it was generally believed the farmer was jealous and that when he attempted to give expression to his feelings his anger overcame him and he decided to bring the whole trouble to a finish.

This was concluded from his brief statement when arrested that he had killed her and was ready to die himself.

He fled as soon as he had shot

He was armed with a .45 automatic and had two clips of cartridges. He was prepared to fight for his life, but Herd "got the drop" on him.

Ed Maloney and William Manley, deputy sheriffs, searched nearly all night for Blakeley, not knowing that he had been arrested by the neighbors.

Feeling against Blakeley has been running high in the Brushy Mountain district for some time, especially since the charge was filed against him by his daughter-in-law and he was hurried to the county jail to avoid expected trouble.

FILIPPINOS ARE CLAMORING FOR INDEPENDENCE

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16.—United States Treasurer John Burke is the first member of the congressional junketing party to return from the Far East.

"The Filipinos are clamoring for independence," said Mr. Burke, "and I am certainly impressed with their ability, energy and poise. They have perfect self-control and I believe they can control each other."

"Our party had a great welcome at Shanghai, China. The Chinese, while very friendly to America, are conducting a boycott against Japanese articles of manufacture."

"A number of banquets were given in our honor by Chinese residents. We constantly heard praise for our educational institutions at these affairs. Hundreds of Chinese boys and girls are being trained in the United States. They return to China every year and put their knowledge into practice. One student started a large cotton manufactory and cleared $6,000,000. He gave $5,000,000 of it to the government to be spent in education. They are also applying our systems of sanitation and social welfare."

SAYS HE'LL LIVE TO BE 100, ANYWAY

Major William M. King.

That he will live at least 100 years, is the confident prediction of Major William M. King, eighty-eight-year-old United States crop expert, who has just been placed on the retired list after thirty-one years of service with the department of agriculture. As chief of the seed division, Major King made the suggestion which prompted congress to authorize the free distribution of seeds.

JACK JOHNSON SENTENCED TO A YEAR AND A DAY

CHICAGO, Sept. 16.—Jack Johnson, former world's heavyweight champion, was sentenced to one year and a day in Leavenworth penitentiary and fined $1,000 today by Federal Judge George A. Carpenter for violation of the Mann act.

The sentence passed on Johnson in 1913, when he was convicted of transporting a white girl from Pittsburgh to Chicago for immoral purposes was the same as passed today.

Johnson fled to Europe, forfeiting his $30,000 bonds and from then on until a few months ago when he surrendered on the Lower California border, he was a fugitive from justice.

Johnson's first wife committed suicide during the trial in 1913 and he thereupon married Lucile Cameron, the principal white witness for the state.

Since his return to Illinois, Johnson has been boxing daily in his jail cell, first at Joliet and later at Geneva, Ill., in anticipation that he might be released and permitted to take up fighting again.

Johnson, nattily dressed in a blue suit, bright blue tie and patent leather oxfords, was smiling broadly when he entered the court room. When the sentence was passed, however, he appeared much cast down, as he had hoped for greater leniency. Permission was granted his attorney to file a writ of error, and a stay of execution of the sentence was given until Monday.

Judge Carpenter, who has refused to hear a plea for bail since Johnson was returned to Illinois, again refused to release the prisoner and ordered him returned to the Geneva jail.

WORSE THAN THE BOLL WEEVIL

The boll weevil is now playing havoc with the cotton in many sections of the cotton belt, but the boll weevil is not the worst enemy the cotton grower has. There is Capper of Kansas who wants to break the price of cotton. There is Watson of Indiana who wants Harding elected in order to beat down the price of cotton. And there is Harding himself, who published as a feature story in his Marion Star the speech of Capper, urging the election of a republican administration in order to beat down the price of cotton to a decent figure.

On the occasion of Harding's notification at Marion, Senator Capper who was among the visitors said: "During the war and since, we have seen what southern control means. The southern statesmen were all for rigidly controlling and limiting the price of wheat, but solidly against interfering with the price of cotton. We know the results: a price was fixed on wheat that compelled the farmers to take far less than they would have got in an uncontrolled market. Cotton went to dizzying prices. That's the sort of thing that comes with democratic effort to manage the country's business. The people are utterly disgusted with it all and determined to end it. They see what it means to have the south played as a favorite when its special products have to be dealt with. The cotton and sugar raisers of the south have got away with profits beyond calculation. Let the country now be turned over to the combination of southern selfishness and northern political bossism that nominated Cox and we would have four years more of this sort of thing, only far worse. Let us assure you that the people realize these conditions and are not going to take the chance of turning the country over to four years of this sort of domination."

And the Marion Star, owned and edited by Warren G. Harding, republican candidate for president, features the above outburst of a Kansas jackass as a good and weighty reason why the people should vote for Harding.

Senator Watson of Indiana is equally vicious and equally desirous of swatting the southern cotton grower. In his speech at Sullivan, Watson said: "The south has been in the saddle for the last seven years and the south is not competent to handle the affairs of this nation. The south has robbed the north systematically under Woodrow Wilson. You people in the north pay the taxes and the south has got rich. You northern wheat farmers had your wheat price fixed, while southern cotton made the southerners wealthy. If you want four more years of southern control, vote for Cox."

Well, hadn't the cotton grower better vote for Cox? It is charged by Capper and Watson and endorsed by Harding that the southern cotton grower owes his prosperity to democratic administration and that the election of Cox means four more years of similar prosperity. If the republican leaders are telling the truth, the Pontotoc farmer who votes the republican ticket is just plain durned fool for his pains. Moreover the republicans say that the cotton growers have robbed the north systematically for seven years, and no good citizen likes to be called a thief and a robber. Besides when Capper says that the people of the north are going to elect a republican president just to break southern control of the government and bring down the price of cotton, isn't it time for the cotton grower to wake up and work a little in their own interests? There is something much worse than the boll weevil.

Talking of the man all dressed up and no where to go: how about the man who is opposed to the league of nations? No matter what party he may belong to, that party is committed to the league idea. If he is a democrat, his party nominee is appealing for the ratification of the league covenant and standing squarely on a platform endorsing the league idea. If he is a republican, his party nominee has twice voted for the league ratification and is running on a platform endorsing the league idea. Now the nominee of the prohibitionists has endorsed the league and is supporting its ratification. So it seems as if a league opponent will have a difficult task finding either a platform or a candidate to his liking. He may possibly find a party that opposes the league and endorsed it with the intention of double crossing the public after the election is over.

The voters of Wisconsin have retired to private life one Congressman Esch, joint author with Senator Cummins of the Cummins-Esch bill. The only argument against Mr. Esch in the recent campaign was his sponsorship of the bill that bears his name. Of Oklahoma's congressmen Mr. Harrel of the fifth district alone voted with Mr. Esch and he too is to face the voters in November.

Contrary to announcement the republican campaign in Oklahoma opened at Arcadia Saturday morning and the republican cohorts scored a decisive victory.

General Pershing is not forgotten. The newspapers call attention to the fact that on Tuesday occurred his 60th birthday anniversary.—Vinita Daily Journal.

Jack Dempsey drew down $55,000 at Benton Harbor for less than ten minutes' work, which is pretty fair drawing. But then anyone who can do something better than anybody else in the world can get well paid for doing it even if it is only punching somebody's face.—Muskogee Times-Democrat.

Success the police department scored in its traffic violation drive should be an incentive to conduct a similar campaign, between now and state fair time, against the safebreakers, second story workers and holdups who have suddenly taken on new life.—Oklahoma News.

Young Teddy Roosevelt said in his Tulsa speech that the democratic administration has been the most tremendous failure in history. But there is a hook-nosed Teuton sawing wood in the forests of Holland who has an entirely different opinion of our conduct of the war.—Hugo Daily News.

The state highway engineer makes the statement that the funds for dragging roads are now available and that he notes that often the roads are not dragged at the right time. The public might add to this statement that the freedom from dragging on most roads one drives over is the most noticeable thing about them.—Shawnee Morning News.

Governor Cox is a strong campaigner. Had he gone to Maine he might have reduced the republican majority. But he is invading more essential and hopeful states. He is making friends for democracy, and showing many independent and progressive voters the folly of electing a man of the Harding type, but he will need the solid support of his party if he is to win.—Oklahoma City Times.

Charges made by Governor Cox that the republicans are collecting a huge campaign fund are being sustained by republican testimony. Those who have thought the democratic leader extravagant in his estimates, must have changed their minds in the face of evidence brought out at the Chicago hearing. On the word of a republican who helped collect it, the Cleveland quota corresponded to the figures submitted by Governor Cox, which verifies the governor's assertion that those figures were from a quota sheet compiled by the republican campaign organization.—Oklahoma City Times.

At the Ada Playhouses

Expensive Motion Picture.

Local screen lovers who view "The Cinema Murder" at the McSwain Theater today will feast their eyes on "properties" costing in the neighborhood of a half million dollars. One rare Gothic tapestry alone is valued at $20,000. It is said to be over a hundred years old and was loaned personally to Marion Davies, who stars in the production, by a New York friend. A Chinese bowl for which the owner has refused $15,000 is another interesting object. A genuine American walnut buffet, dating from the sixteenth century; a cheese cabinet over two hundred years old; a $10,000 redwood Italian chair, a gorgeously colored jardiniere, rug, curtains, draperies and a rare lamp lend unusual color to other scenes. Also vaudeville and music.

Bedroom Farce Comedy.

"Parlor, Bedroom and Bath," the screen farce which sets forth the tribulations and misadventures of a model husband who won his wife under a false pretense of dereliction, is scheduled for its first local showing Monday and Tuesday at the McSwain Theater.

For one of the longest and most hilarious seasons a comedy has ever known, "Parlor, Bedroom and Bath," written by C. W. Bell and Mark Swan, and produced in the theater by A. H. Woods, convulsed New York; and those who have had the opportunity of seeing please showings of the production in pictures, with an all-star cast, assert that the play has gained rather than lost in hilarity in the transition to the silver sheet.

The situation, or at least the central situation, for there are any number of them, deals with Reggie Irving who for many years has sought to win Angelica. This young woman wanted a man just the opposite of what her own name implied. She wanted a wild one, and since Reggie had no idea of how to be wild, had no inclinations toward sowing even a little patch of the untamed oats, he perforce sought outside aid. He went to Polly Hathaway, society reporter on the scandal sheet, and asked her to use the dark polish on his reputation.

Ruth Stonehouse enacts the breezy, resourceful girl reporter; and Eugene Pallette, who was the incoherent Billy Bartlett in "Fair and Warmer," starring May Allison, and who later was seen with Bert Lytell in "Alias Jimmy Valentine," plays Reggie. The part of Angelica is deftly and delightfully enacted by Kathleen Kirkham, who, after this production, will form and appear in special pictures made by her own company. Henry Miller Jr., son of the famous actor-manager, has also an important part in "Parlor, Bedroom and Bath."

"The Forbidden Woman." Clara Kimball Young in "The Forbidden Woman," which is to be presented at the American Theater for a two-days' engagement beginning today, is a moving picture attraction which Ada people who have followed the development of the screen as a medium for the presentation of a really big, dramatic idea, cannot afford to miss. There have been many unqualified expressions of opinion to the effect that "The Forbidden Woman" is a great masterpiece and there is no denial of the statement that it ranks with such attractions as "The Miracle Man" and "Eyes of Youth," both of which are outstanding successes in the realm of moving pictures.

"The Forbidden Woman," Equity Pictures' second big Clara Kimball Young picture, was completed on the Pacific coast several weeks ago and was exhibited before an audience consisting almost entirely of people of the motion picture industry, and the consensus of opinion was that the picture was big in every sense of the word—big in the story—big in its manner of telling, and big in the work of Clara Kimball Young and the players who support her. Later reviews of the picture by New York and major city critics are unanimous in their approval of this photoplay.

The story is from the pen of Lenore J. Coffee, a Los Angeles newspaper woman, and involves the career of a brilliant young artist in a rare Parisian love story. The tragic circumstances which cause her to leave Paris for America, her consequent immolation of self and retirement from worldly affairs, the destiny which leads her from sorrow to romance and from romance to love with all its attendant misunderstandings and the happy ending forms a story of rare charm, and affords a vehicle for the star of the highest and most idealized form of entertainment. It might well be said that no actress on stage or screen surpasses Clara Kimball Young in brilliancy of characterization, beauty and histrionic art. The cast headed by Miss Young includes such notables as Conway Tearle, acknowledged the most finished lover on the American stage; Kathryn Adams, known and admired by millions; Winter Hall, a sterling favorite; Jiquel Lanoe, Milla Davenport, Stanton Williams and John MacKinnon, all indicating that audiences everywhere will receive a special treat.

To be sincere. To look life in the eyes
With calm and undrooping gaze.
Always to mean
The high and truthful thing.
Never to screen
Behind the unmeant word, the sharp surprise
Of cunning. Never tell the little lies
Or look-or thought always to choose between
The true and small, the true and large serene
And high above life's cheap dishonesties.

The soul that steers by this un-failing star
Needs never other compass. All the far

DUVETYN FROCK IN LEAF BROWN SHADE

By Eloise.

"Oh, for a frock that I can wear anywhere," with much emphasis on the anywhere, is the cry of every woman today. It is that between season time when summer frocks are usually out of place and winter ones are often too warm. The simple short-sleeved duvetyns and tricelines are just the thing for general utility wear now. They are appropriate for almost every occasion of the daylight hours and are quite comfortable for traveling without the bother of an extra wrap.

This smart frock, which will just fill the needs of the woman wanting something to wear "anywhere," is made of leaf brown duvetyn. It is fashioned on excellent lines for general wear and is becoming to most figures. Novel pleating at the hips gives the skirt a somewhat egg-shaped silhouette. A narrow, crossed belt marks the waistline. Short sleeves, a tiny girdle of self material and a collar which may be fastened up under the chin are the distinguishing features, while a narrow black ribbon tie is the finishing touch.

The Gas Company to Connect With Line On North Broadway

Mr. Orville Snead, local manager of the gas company, says that the company today received from the manufacturers a large pipe connection which they have been writing, wiring and waiting on for several months.

Early in the year, when on two or three occasions the weather was fierce, the city asked the company to place a six-inch line on North Broadway. They have had the pipe placed for a long time but this particular connection was hard to obtain. Other parts were received not so very long ago. It was the intention of the company to commence the completion of that work today, but due to the fact that a good portion of North Broadway would have to be closed to traffic and the further fact that several vehicles are now traversing that particular part of the street during the Pontotoc county fair, they have decided to defer work on the pipe line until Monday. This six-inch connection should help relieve the situation very materially.

Church News

It has already been announced that home coming day will be observed at the Christian church next Sunday. This ought to be one of the big days of the year. A large attendance is expected. An invitation is extended to all persons in Ada who are members of the church elsewhere to put in their membership next Sunday. An invitation is extended to those, also, who are students and are members of the church or not of any church. The members of the church are asked to be sure to invite their friends to come with them.

Another important feature is that it will be pay-up day. A good many are paid up to date, but some are not. If all will pay up their pledges to October 1, the parsonage debt can be paid and the church will be clear, and some money left in the treasury. Brethren let us do this. Let us make next Sunday a real homecoming, pay-up, happy day. There will be special helpful features at all the services. —C. V. Dunn, minister.

CALF EATS CORN EXHIBIT

LEXINGTON, Sept. 15.—Ten ears of corn and a prize calf were loaded into a truck by a young Cleveland county farmer Wednesday morning for a trip to the Lexington township fair.

When the exhibitor reached Lexington he still had the calf, but seven ears of corn were missing.

Fair judges could not decide whether or not he still was entitled to enter both the calf and corn exhibits. He turned the calf and the ten ears over to the judges, but they could judge only three ears.

Hard to KILL

You take a club and swat a snake, and it will vainly contortions make, long after it is dead; the tail will tie itself in knots as in defiance of the swats that smashed the evil head. But when the sunset comes, men say, the serpent quits its foolish play, and drops its bluff insane; and some one hangs it on a fence in the belief, devoid of sense, that such an act brings rain. And it is much the same with Booze; his sinful head we saw him lose and gloried in his fall; but still his body squirms and twists, what time the nation wots and wists that dead things shouldn't crawl. Still sinners brew their jugs of ale and we escort them to the jail and give them fifty years; and every time I walk the street some delegate I'm sure to meet whose breath suggests sweet beers. Bootleggers in the alleys thrive, and yet the serpent's alive, our statutes to contempt; like any broken snake is Booze, the reflex action of his thews just makes him flop around.

HARRELD 'CUT' FARM VOTE, FERRIS SAYS

HOBART, Sept. 15.—"Absent and not voting, was the record of Congressman J. W. Harreld when the amendment to the farm loan act, intended to give aid to the farmers of the nation, was voted upon in congress," said Congressman Scott Ferris here tonight in speaking before a large audience of farmers and citizens of Hobart.

"This was an important matter for the farmers," Ferris said, "because congress was seeking to remedy the act and keep interest down within reach of the farmer. Harreld was unwilling to take a stand, fearful that if he voted one way he would offend the farm loan companies, and that if he voted the other way he would offend the farmers."

This was the opening of the Ferris campaign for the United States senate in southwestern Oklahoma. He spoke to large audiences at Snyder this afternoon, and made short speeches at Mountain Park, Cold Springs and Roosevelt.

NORMAL NOTES

The new driveway around the normal is completed and the car drivers may use it if they so desire.

Dr. C. W. Briles, former president of the normal and now the director of vocational education in Oklahoma, was a normal school visitor today.

R. R. Robinson, R. S. Newcomb and E. H. Nelson will be the judges of the educational exhibits at the fair. They are all teachers in the normal.

Miss Unis Armstrong of Florence, Texas, has enrolled in the normal as a senior. She was a student of the state normal school at that place before coming to Ada.

There was an assembly this morning. The purpose of the meeting was for a rally to be held before the students left for the fair grounds. Several important matters were discussed.

W. D. Little paid the normal a visit this morning. He is here getting data for a special article concerning the state normals to be published in the Tulsa World and the Oklahoman.

The football equipment is being secured and will be issued to the men in a few days. The team will be able to appear in uniform and the Ada fans will be able to see the boys in action.

Five of the classes in the high school department have grown so large that it is necessary to divide them. This will give the teachers a better opportunity to teach the students in the proper manner.

Mr. Clary, the athletic coach, now has his office well equipped and will be able to care for all athletic business in the proper way. Those wanting to see him will find him in his office opposite the chemistry room.

There is a greater enrollment of students who are taking college work than ever before in the history of the normal. This shows that the high schools are doing more efficient work and the students are able to enter the normal in a first class condition.

The state normal school is going to put on a vitalized course in agriculture under the supervision of Dr. P. G. Holden. There will be about 150 teachers from all parts of the district, other than those who are now enrolled, to take up the work. Each county superintendent is designating 10 to 20 of his most active teachers to take up the work.

The classes will begin organizing tomorrow, the seniors being the first to organize. The class sponsors will be chosen and work will begin in earnest. The seniors will choose their sponsor first and the other classes will follow according to their rank in school.

Today is East Central day at the fair grounds. The students and faculty members will entertain the visitors at the fair with a picture show and a drill by the physical education department this evening. Mr. Norris and B. A. Pratt will have charge of the show and Miss Anna Weaver Jones will have charge of the drill. All are invited to come out and take in these entertainments.

The training school is growing larger every day. Some of the classes are full and the others are reaching the capacity of the rooms. The pupils are glad to get the half day holiday and they will all take in the fair. Preparations are being made to give the training school pupils gym work and they are all anxious to take it. These exercises will make the school more pleasant to the youngsters.

McALESTER IS HOST TO STATE FIREMEN

McALESTER, Sept. 15.—The ingenuity of citizens of this city to entertain visitors is being put to a test beginning Thursday morning, when in addition to the annual free fair for Pittsburg county which is being held in this city during the last four days of the week, McAlester will be called upon to entertain 300 members of the state firemen's association and their wives in convention here. Delegates began arriving Wednesday evening and the convention will be in full swing Thursday morning following an address by Governor Robertson.

COST-PLUS-PROFIT
The New Basis Of Farming In Oklahoma

The Oklahoma Farmer-Stockman believes that farmers are entitled to a reasonable profit.
It advocates the cost-plus-profit basis of farming. It believes that if communities are to be prosperous, if sufficient foodstuffs are to be raised, the farmer of the future must be allowed as large a profit as he might honestly earn in any other legitimate enterprise.

And to this end its editors are showing the farmer how to grow large crops economically; how to market them most profitably. Is it surprising, then, that more than one hundred thousand farmers in Oklahoma regard The Oklahoma Farmer-Stockman as their friend, business partner and adviser?

What does this editorial influence mean to you, Mr. Merchant? Just this: That the farmer seeks information about the goods he buys in the advertisements of the same farm paper that guides his farming operations. And he buys these goods because his satis-sfaction is guaranteed by the publisher.

What greater selling aid can you demand of the manufacturer, Mr. Merchant, than that he advertise in The Oklahoma Farmer-Stockman, the merchandise you sell?

Carl Williams
Editor

CAN the farms of the United States be operated indefinitely at a loss? Without jeopardizing the nation's food supply?
Some authorities claim that, save for the increase in land values, farmers have labored without profit ever since the civil war. Some of them have. But times are changing.

The farmer of today is a better business man.
Computing his income tax has taught him the value of simple bookkeeping. He keeps a record of the items that enter into the cost of producing the year's crop. He knows that he is entitled to interest on capital invested, plus reasonable wages for his labor, plus a reasonable profit for crops and livestock he produces.

The News Bible Lesson

Micah 4:1-5.
But in the last days it shall come to pass, that the mountains of the house of the Lord shall be established in the top of the mountains, and it shall be exalted above the hills; and people shall flow unto it. And many nations shall come, and say, Come, and let us go up to the mountain of the Lord, and to the house of the God of Jacob; and he will teach us of his ways, and we will walk in his paths; for the law shall go forth of Zion, and the word of the Lord from Jerusalem. And he shall judge among many people, and rebuke strong nations afar off, and they shall beat their swords into plowshares, and their spears into pruninghooks: nation shall not lift up a sword against nation, neither shall they learn war any more. But they shall sit every man under his vine and under his fig tree; and none shall make them afraid; for the mouth of the Lord of hosts hath spoken it. For all people shall walk every one in the name of his god, and we will walk in the name of the Lord our God for ever and ever.

EIGHT HUNDRED MILLION SUBJECT TO MALARIA NOW

NEW YORK, July 10.—Eight hundred million people living in the world's "malaria zone," which practically coincides with the tropical and semi-tropical regions of the earth, are subject to the "crip-pling and deadly influence of that disease," according to George E. Vincent, president of the Rockefeller Foundation. Residents of the southern part of the United States, Mexico, Central America, the West Indies, and the northern part of South America are included in this "malaria belt," said Mr. Vincent, who today issued the second of a series of reviews on the Founda-tion's work against malaria and hook-worm for the year 1919.
Practical methods for fighting malaria, as used by the Founda-tion's sanitariums, include elimina-tion of germ carrying anopheles mosquito, and the use of quinine to sterilize the blood of human malaria carriers.
"Public funds are a necessity in the control of malaria as well as hookworm," the review continues, "and are now being appropriated faster than sanitariums can be found to do the work."
"Hookworm control has proved a most successful means of con-vincing communities that health is a purchasable thing, and during 1919 control measures were car-ried on in 25 different states and countries, with a general tendency toward a reduction in the preva-lence and intensity of the infection; more efficient and more wide-spread sanitation, and the educa-tion of communities in the possi-bilities of general health policies."

HAS TIGHT HOLD ON CARPENTIER

NEW YORK, July 10.—Chances of a championship fought between Georges Carpentier and Jack Dempsey is regarded unlikely before next year, "if ever" Jack Kearns, Dempsey's manager, declared today following a conference here with Francois DesCamps, the Frenchman's manager, and others prominent in boxing circles.
Kearns signified his willingness to contract to box Carpentier at any time or place agreeable to the two principals, for the highest purse offered but William A. Brady, representing Charles Cochrane, London fight promoter, produced a contract Carpentier signed after he had knocked out Joe Beckett, the English heavyweight, in London last fall. This contract gave Cochrane an opportunity until December 31, next. A clause forbids Carpentier or his manager from even discussing a Dempsey fight with any other promoter. DesCamps took refuge behind the clause.
Apparently the only avenue open for discussion of a match would be for Kearns and Dempsey to accept Carpentier's challenge issued in Paris last year in which it was specified that the bout would have to be held in England or France under Cochrane's management.
Kearns, however, refused to consent to have Dempsey go to Europe to defend his title. He would not bind himself to deal with Cochrane alone, as he believed it would preclude all chances of obtaining a higher bid from some other promoter.

PEKING UNION MEDICAL SCHOOL NEAR COMPLETE

By the Associated Press
NEW YORK, July 8.—The entire plant of the Peking Union Medical College, established through the China Medical Board of the Rockefeller Foundation, probably will be completed by January 1, 1921. George E. Vincent, president of the foundation, stated today in a partial review of the work of the foundation during 1919. Three of the teaching buildings of the college were occupied in October, 1919. The completed plant will include the following buildings, the review stated: Laboratories for anatomy, physiology and chemistry; pathology building, a 250 bed hospital with provisions for about 30 private rooms, a large out-patient department, a hospital administration unit with quarters for resident physicians and internes, a nurses home, which will supply water, heat, light, power and gas and faculty residences.
"The China Medical Board of the Rockefeller Foundation seeks to aid the agencies which represent western medicine in China to make steady progress toward higher standards and more efficient service," Mr. Vincent's review said.
Appropriations were made during the year to 13 hospitals conducted under the auspices of missionary societies, the review said. In December, 1919, a revised policy was adopted which provides for concentration upon a small number of hospitals which, by reason of location of staff and equipment are in a position directly to promote the cause of medical education.

Mr. Vincent's review said, concerning the anti-tuberculosis work of the foundation: "Only in France and there as a war measure, has the International Health Board undertaken to aid in combating tuberculosis." A campaign, started there in 1917, aimed to demonstrate systematic control methods, train public health nurses, educate the public to fight tuberculosis and turn the work over to the French. This transfer of responsibility to French communities and agencies has gone forward steadily, the review added. "The personnel in charge of the dispensaries is now almost wholly French."
The hospital and sanitarium facilities for the tuberculous provided by the American Red Cross during the war, have been taken over and extended by municipalities and departments. The central government, Mr. Vincent explained, has passed a law under which each department will be compelled within five years either to build a sanitarium of its own or to send its patients to that of another department. The cost is to be shared by the central and departmental governments.

A rather incomplete report was given this morning to the effect that a little nine year old terday during the rainstorm. She was the daughter of a widow woman by the name of Sampson. A more definite account of this tragedy will be given when obtained.

CHAUTAUQUA TO BE HELD AT STONEWALL

STONEWALL, Okla., July 10.—The fourth annual chautauqua for Stonewall will begin next Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock, and two big programs will be shown daily throughout the five days engagement.
The White & Myers company are sending out an excellent program this season, and the entertainments offered are worth several times the price of admission.
The chautauqua will open with the Metropolitan Symphony Club. This extraordinary company has been one of the feature musical attractions for the past two years. No more popular company has ever been presented. Miss Irene Bewley of Tennessee, a most delightful entertainer, also appears on the first day.
The second day a glorious feast is offered by the Maryland Singers, a mixed quartet. Hon. Leslie Willis Sprague also delivers his lecture "The Prophecy of the Present Unrest," the second day.
The third day offers Bertha Kribben, Margaret Harris and Mildred Shaughnessy, in a concert all their own. "Saving the Victory," a lecture by Edwin Aldine Pound is also a part of the third days program.
On the fourth day appears Dr. H. W. Sears with his lecture "More Taffey and Less Epitaphy." The evening program is a presentation of "The Servant in the House," a religious drama. In a way you never can forget the spirit of this play. It portrays the spirit of Christ working in the every day lives of men.
The final climax of the big Chautauqua is a concert and entertainment entitled "Old Time Days in Dixie," featuring the Dixie Duo and an old fiddlers contest.

Imagine trying to eat with two sticks held between the thumb and finger. The Chinese do this very nicely, though and probably, would find it very awkward to eat with knives and forks.
It is said that spectacles were used in China many hundreds of years ago, but they were very queer looking things compared to the modern, dressey eyeglasses we are showing.
And our methods of examining the eyes are thoroughly modern too. It will be to your very decided advantage to call and see us if you are having trouble with your eyes.

AMNESTY UP TO PRESIDENT WILSON

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—A general amnesty for so-called "political prisoners" is entirely up to President Wilson, Attorney General Palmer indicated yesterday to a group of labor leaders and socialists who conferred with him.

The group which was led by Samuel Gompers, asked Palmer to release 174 persons. Gompers presented Palmer with a resolution to this effect, adopted by the Montreal convention of the American Federation of Labor, and Meyer London, former socialist congressman, spoke briefly.

Gompers in his talk, praised the "loyalty of labor during the war," and said "that the U. S. alone among civilized nations had not extended a political amnesty."

Palmer stated he would present the Montreal resolution to the president, but he pointed out there were difficulties in the way of an amnesty since, he said, many of the prisoners were convicted on counts other than violation of the espionage law.

The department of justice, he said, would act on each case on its merits.

A second delegation of socialists, headed by James O'Neill and Bertha Marley of New York, and George E. Roemer Jr., of Boston, presented to Palmer a petition which declared that further imprisonment of political prisoners "is not justifiable on the ground of sound policy or good morals, but assumes the character of political and class vindictiveness."

CHARLIE CHAPLIN TO BE REFUSED DIVORCE BY WIFE

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—Mildred Harris Chaplin will not give Charlie a divorce. Despite the sorrow she is alleged to have suffered from the haughty indifference and radicalism of the comedian of the films, Mildred has changed her mind. She now claims one-half of Charlie's property, estimated at $3,000,000.

This was the statement made by Henry J. Goldsmith, former assistant district attorney, who has been retained by Mrs. Chaplin as her counsel.

"Mrs. Chaplin came east a few weeks ago for her vacation," Mr. Goldsmith said last night. "She told me that Charlie had made a wreck of her life so that she had to quit work for several weeks. In view of the fact that her husband had abandoned her and fled the jurisdiction of the California court where she was seeking a divorce, she has decided to let the action drop and will not give Charlie his freedom."

"I have told her that under the law she is entitled to 50 per cent of all of Mr. Chaplin's property, both real and personal. I am informed that Mr. Chaplin is worth about $3,000,000 and that part of his property is in the name of his brother Sidney."

He Won't Drop Dead Any More

"My husband suffered terribly from stomach and liver trouble, which caused such bloating of gas as to seriously affect his heart. Doctors warned him that he might drop dead at any time from this trouble. A friend in Cleveland advised him to take May's Wonderful Remedy, and since taking it, 4 months ago, he is feeling like a young man again. All his friends are surprised at his appearance." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded.

CANADA DROPS CONVICT STRIPES

Their Prisoners Are To Be Garbed in Blue and Brown.

OTTAWA, Sept. 16.—Believing that the old striped uniform in which all convicts in penal institutions have previously been garbed has a tendency toward degrading and hardening prisoners, the department of justice, after much deliberation, has decided to abandon it. In the future, two uniforms, one for summer wear and one for winter, will be supplied to take its place.

Made from durable, uni-colored brown denim, the new summer uniform will consist of jacket and trousers cut in conventional pattern, with none of the hitherto distinguished prison features. To huge painted numbers, which in the old uniform, adorned the back and chest of the wearer, and which were unnecessarily conspicuous, will be abandoned. They will be replaced with small, neat metal numbered plates, secured to the back and breast of the jacket, quite inconspicuous and equally efficient.

The winter clothing will be made from French blue cloth, while numbers similar to those on the summer uniform will be affixed. Round cloth caps, similar in design to the forage cap issued by the German government to field regiments, of blue cloth, and with ear flaps, will complete the convict's winter equipment.

The most radical change, however, will be made in the provision of discharge clothing for prisoners. In former years the government has been wont provide grey tweed suits, badly cut and absolutely unmistakable to residents of prison cities. These suits will be replaced by well tailored and modern garments in many varieties of texture and colorings. They will also be made to order, and when the prisoner receives his discharge, he will leave prison garbed in clothing which will not betray the fact of his misfortune to the first man or woman whom he may meet upon the street.

"BECAUSE OF NEW LAW LICKER WILL BE $18"

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16.—R. W. Williams, commissioner of internal revenue, has discovered what he thinks is the boldest case of defiance of the law that ever confronted an enforcement officer. In the foothills of the Virginia mountains a clever negro moonshine distiller prospered for years before the nation went dry. He manufactured a good brand of corn whisky and sold it for $8 a gallon up to the time the eighteenth amendment went into effect, when he learned that his rivals in business had suddenly boosted the price of "good corn" to $5 a quart.

He did not know what caused the rise but got the impression some "new law" had something to do with it. Therefore, to keep pace with the times, he posted on the side of his little still house a notice saying: "To all my customers an' friends—Because of the new law my licker will be $18 a quart from this time on."

Some of Mr. Williams' agents discovered the old man's place, sign and all, but did not get him. They collected several gallons of rare corn whisky.

Walker Sees State Highway Department Regarding Big Bridge

O. N. Walker, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, was in Oklahoma City yesterday conferring with the state highway commissioner with reference to repairing the low water bridge across the Canadian river at Byas, a section of which went out a few days ago.

Early in the week the Chamber of Commerce officials got busy on the proposition of having the bridge repaired, but since it is a state bridge it will be necessary to have the plans prepared and approved by the state highway department before the work can proceed. To get this work done was Mr. Walker's mission to the city yesterday, and he states that Mr. Wood, head of the department, is going to co-operate in every way possible and dispatch an engineer to Ada either today or tomorrow.

Methods of getting the money to do the work will yet have to be worked out, but Mr. Walker believes it will be a simple problem. Many farmers on both sides of the river have agreed to furnish teams and labor free, and it is thought that the bridge can be put in shape at once sufficiently to take care of the traffic this fall during the cotton season.

Every day lost in the matter of getting the repairs made is a distinct financial loss to the city and county, and for that reason the Chamber of Commerce is doing all in its power to see that plans for immediate action are matured.

About 125 feet of the bridge, on the north side of the river is out.

City Schools Are Open and Crowded To Full Capacity

The public schools of Ada opened Monday, September 13, for the fall term with the largest enrollment in the history of the schools. The total enrollment at the close of the first day was in excess of 1800 which is 100 more than the total enrollment at the close of the first month last year. The enrollment is distributed as follows: High school 360, High school ward 150, Hayes school 320, Willard school 300, Irving school 293 and Glenwood school 351. The enrollment at the separate school was 45. Many of the rooms in the wards have already reached the limit of seating capacity.

The conditions at the frame building on the high school campus where two teachers have four grades with an enrollment of 150, is very bad and results cannot be expected under such conditions. As many patrons as can and will should transfer from the building to other buildings.

The primary rooms at the Hayes school are not crowded and can give many of these children full day sessions under normal conditions. Transfers are being made today in an attempt to equalize the enrollment in the grades of the various ward schools. Until the new building is ready for use the crowded condition will continue and without doubt half day sessions will have to be resorted to.

The patrons of the schools should consider the conditions under which school authorities are laboring and be considerate as well as co-operative. Where transfers can be made such transfers should be made until better arrangements are available.

SCHOOL HEADS TOLD OF NEW TEXT BOOKS

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 16.—New textbooks which will be used this year in Oklahoma schools for the first time are pointed out in a letter by R. H. Wilson, state superintendent of public instruction, sent yesterday to all city and county superintendents of schools. Upon the books listed, pupils are entitled to a rate of 50 per cent of the listed price in addition to exchanging the old book for which the new is substituted. The latter calls attention to the fact that it is a misdemeanor to charge more for a school text book than the authorized price.

ANTI-SALOON LEAGUE TO FIGHT WET CANDIDATES

By the Associated Press
WASHINGTON, Sept. 16.—Officials of the Anti-Saloon league in conference here today, made public a partial list of candidates for congress against whom they will wage battle because of the candidate's position on prohibition.

Wayne Wheeler, general council of the league, in announcing the list declared the league's policy to be that every candidate not recorded as favorable to rigid enforcement would be fought to the finish.

Thomas Taggart, democrat, who is opposing Senator Watson, republican, Indiana, was among those named. Mr. Wheeler declared it was imperative to defeat Taggart and re-elect Watson.

The Rexall Store Is Conducting a Straw Vote for President

Gwin & Mays, proprietors of the Rexall Store at 121 west Main, opened a ballot box to the public today in a straw vote for president which will run from this date to the evening of November 2, the day before election.

The ballots for the vote have been printed, containing the names of Harding, republican, and Cox, democrat, with the regulation ballot squares opposite the names for checking.

The presidential straw vote for president is a custom with Rexall stores throughout the north American continent, and at the close of the campaign the counts will be tabulated and all sent to the home office of the United Drug company at Boston.

Every citizen in the city and county eligible to vote is entitled to cast his ballot in the straw vote at the drug store of Gwin & Mays, and it is not necessary to make a purchase at the store in order to cast your ballot. No person, of course, will be allowed to vote more than one time.
